

Promoting Environmental Conservation in Schools and Communities

COSITA continues to implement its mission of protecting the environment and encouraging community participation in environmental conservation efforts. In this initiative, we successfully distributed tree seedlings to Kakoi Secondary School as well as Neneto, Kakoi, Oltukai, and Nkaiti Primary Schools. 🌳

Through this activity, COSITA aims to build awareness among students and the wider community about the importance of planting and nurturing trees as a way to address climate change, improve learning environments, and protect natural resources. 🌿

Beyond tree distribution, COSITA works closely with communities by providing environmental education, promoting tree planting in schools and villages, and emphasizing the sustainable care of planted trees. These efforts strengthen community engagement in environmental protection and help nurture a responsible generation for the future of our planet. 🌍 ✨

Together, we can continue to promote a culture of tree planting and environmental conservation for the sustainable development of our communities.
